TUESDAY, JULY 20, 1909.

One of its reporters having been assaulted, the Chicago Tribune announces that "it will never forget the offense, and will ferret out the offender and put him where such fellow belong." Most newspapers entertain similar intentions, as indeed they should.

Repeal of the law prohibiting the use of ferrets in hunting rabbits, is wise action. Under protection, rabbits have become exceedingly plentiful, and their habit of girdling young fruit trees has done much damage. It is but a question of time when repeal of the protection of robins and other berry and fruit consumers and destroyers will be demanded.

There is in existence an organization known as the "International Institute of Agriculture." It exists under an international treaty signed on June 7, 1906, and its purpose is to secure accurate agricultural statistics from all governments. According to its president, the institute will be in a position to begin its regular official service in January, 1910. If it succeeds in obtaining accurate reports of crops, for instance wheat, its work may prove of real value, for this country is an exporter of wheat and the price received is based upon the world's supply.

That many of the 847 Senate tariff amendments will, if adopted by the Conference committee, increase the cost of living, seems to be a conceded fact by all except those who would benefit by increased duties. Now, we are told by a political economist that over-production of gold will also increase the cost of living within the next ten years. If this be true, there is the more reason for rejection of the duty-increases in the Senate bill, for there are limits to the purchasing ability of the so-called "common people."

The Hartford Courant says "it has always been and still is a matter of regret that the trolley lines in Connecticut were not built and owned by the municipalities, just as so many municipalities do, and as all of them should, build and own their water systems."

Bridgeport has been endeavoring for several years to purchase its water system but has thus far been blocked by dextrous action at Hartford, including that most peculiar law giving Fairfield and Stratford a virtual veto power.

The most favorable comment upon the bill providing for the creation of a public utilities commission and defining its jurisdiction and powers, comes from Ex-Gov. Woodruff who calls it "a step in the right direction." It is an accurate description. The bill is "a step," and very little more, but it can be amended by the next General Assembly provided the people do not again allow the public service corporations to pack that body.

Much, very much, depends upon the men appointed to the commission by the Governor with the advice and consent of the Senate, the House having no voice in the matter. We are not inclined to believe that the commissioners will be selected with any excessive regard for the people's interests, for Gov. Weeks is said to be at heart a "corporation man," while of the Senate, Ex-Senator Judson lately said: "For years it has been customary for the corporations to take a hand in the selection of such senators as they needed."

Possibly these conditions will aid the enactment of the bill which is "a step in the right direction," though short one—that is, they may lessen the opposition of the corporations which appear to be in control of the Senate and perhaps also of the House.

Ex-President Roosevelt still entertains decided opinions as to "the mal-effects of great wealth." In a signed editorial appearing in the "Outlook," he says:

The multi-millionaire is not per se a healthy development in this country. If his fortune rests on a basis of wrongdoing, he is a far more dangerous criminal than any of the ordinary types of criminals can possibly be. If his fortune is the result of great service rendered, well and good; he deserves respect and reward for such service—although we must remember to pay our homage to the service itself, and not to the fortune which is the mere reward for the service; but when his fortune is passed on to some one else, who has not rendered the service, then the nation should impose a heavily graded progressive inheritance tax—a singularly wise and unobjectionable kind of tax. It would be a particularly good thing if the tax bore heaviest on absentees. It is refreshing to read such a declaration during the present dearth of Presidential invective. President Taft does not supply any lurid utterances, however greatly demanded by existing conditions—in fact, the Roosevelt policies, of action as well as speech, have practically been abandoned, and conditions seem to be reverting to those of ante-Roosevelt times.

STUDYING HEARTS OF YALE STUDENTS

PROF. ANDERSON OF GYM CONDUCTS EXPERIMENTS IN MEXICAN MOUNTAINS TO DETERMINE THE VALUE OF OXYGEN IN DIFFICULT BREATHING AND ATHLETICS.

New Haven, Conn., July 20.—Important discoveries relating to the effect of athletics on the heart are certain when the report of Prof. William G. Anderson, Director of the Yale gymnasium, is announced.

It is learned that Dr. Anderson has been secretly at work on a series of experiments for two years along novel lines. They were taken up following Yale's unfortunate experiences in rowing, in which two members of different crews collapsed during the four-mile race with Harvard because of heart failure. Orders were issued to conduct physical examinations of Yale athletes before they were permitted to take part in any branch of Yale athletics.

In connection with the rigid examinations Prof. Anderson began his experiments on the effect of exertion on the heart. More than 600 have been held and they have been projected into a comparison of the hearts of students who keep out of athletics with those who go into sports, into the effect of the different sports, and the condition of the hearts of students who come to Yale from preparatory schools where athletics are allowed, compared with the condition of the hearts of students coming from schools where athletics are not allowed. The effect of oxygen on hearts during a season of exertion or in high altitudes has been carefully studied, a trip having been taken to the mountains for the purpose of conducting the investigations along these lines. Joel Ellis Fisher of New York City, a Yale senior, provided funds for the trip, and the two high volcanic mountains, Popocatepetl and Ixtaccihuatl, were climbed, and a series of elaborate tests with oxygen conducted during the journey.

It was intended to keep all information of the experiments a secret till October, when the report of the examinations will be made, but the fact was announced as vouched for by Prof. Anderson. His report is likely to prove the basis of some radical recommendations in college sport.

STAGE HORSE SLIPS;
FALLS INTO AUDIENCE

JOHN INCE, LEADING MAN AT POLTS, DISPLAYS PRESENCE OF MIND IN EMERGENCY.

The horse ridden by John Ince, who is the educated Indian in "The Northern Lights," slipped off the stage yesterday afternoon, fell over the footlights and for a moment it looked as if there might be a panic. But John Ince, the leading man of the Polts Company, who plays the part of Swiftwind, with unusual presence of mind retained his hold upon the bridle and prevented the animal from running amok in the arms of the theater. There was a mild panic among the audience, during which several purses were lost. The ushers threw the scene open and then turned their attention to quieting the women. The animal is owned by Dr. Atkins and it had been educated to stage work. The play will be given for the balance of the week without the horse.

Gov. Brown's Son
Answers Wife's Suit

Baltimore, July 20.—Without denying or admitting the allegations set forth in his wife's suit for divorce, young Frank Brown, son of ex-Gov. Brown, has filed an answer to the suit. The answer indicates that young Brown will not contest the divorce suit. The paper, which is one of the shortest of its kind placed on record in the Court House for many years, is as follows:

"That without admitting or denying the allegations set forth in the bill of divorce, I leave the plaintiff to adduce such evidence and support thereof as may be advised is necessary and proper."

The divorce suit, which was brought recently against young Brown by his wife, who was Miss Mabel Michaels, created considerable comment by reason of the many allegations of cruelty and neglect which was set forth in the bill of complaint.

Walter Hanford will play the guitar at the coming entertainment to be given by the Masons.

If any lady in town wishes to become a Pocahontas, she has only to say so and send in her name.

Buck Swamp, in other days, used to noted for the size of its claims, and other jokes. Mr. Klubb, who lives in the vicinity, wants the neat sum of $500 from Mary Greath, because of a trespass committed by Mary's cow.

During the past day or two there have been a lot of accidents in town. Mr. John Williams sprained his ankle on Friday; William Martine cut his hand with a meat saw; and Albert Hungerford fell from his bicycle and sustained a concussion of the brain.

Mr. E. W. Chapman of Hartford, spent Sunday in town.

One hears but little this season about the oyster shells on Knell's Island, which were such a dreadful nuisance last summer. They had to be sprinkled every few days with copperas water, to prevent any foul smell from reaching town. This year the shells have behaved very well, and now they are being taken away to be planted in the oyster beds. This work gives employment to a number of men.

The story telegraphed to a New York paper regarding a very strange fish which came on shore and caught some 200 of Mr. Thene Judson's chickens, at the light house, appears to have attracted but little attention in well informed biological circles.

To-morrow evening the Evening Star Rebekahs will install officers.

Miss L. L. Gillette and Mrs. Fannie Peck, left for Ocean Grove, to remain for sometime.

Mr. and Mrs. William Beard are now in Munson, Mass.

The work of preparing the Congregational church for the great celebration in October, began on Monday. The carpets, cushions and furniture were being removed by a force of men, to make ready for the painters.

We hear that a nurseryman in town has lost some 3,000 rose bushes, on account of the dry weather.

A gentleman in town from Wichita, Kansas, says he has advice from that city that the boys are cooking eggs on the sidewalk, in the hot sun. Kansas always was a land of wonders.

Mr. Julian Clinton is fast recovering his health at Rehoboth, Mass.

Next Saturday evening the joint committee appointed for the purpose, will hold another conversation on the school question.

Frank Smith of South Main street, recently celebrated his birthday. A number of friends called to see him. J. Carleton Sterling, who is home from Dartmouth college, has been visiting in town.

FAIRFIELD

The New Window—Tea Tomorrow
To Decorate St. Thomas—Houses Being Wired for Electricity—Sunday's Baseball News.

Yesterday afternoon Wallace M. Buley moved the new stained glass window from Tiffany's to the Congregational church, where it will be placed in position this week ready for dedication next Sunday morning. It was a small job to move the glass, as it weighs 1,000 pounds and was ten feet long. The window, being designed for the northern side of the church, is made of lighter colored glass than those which have been placed in the chancel behind the pulpit, as a gift from Miss Jennings.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Harrison of Boston, are visiting in town.

Harlan Dargan has returned to his home in New York, after a brief visit among friends.

It is thought the premium list of the Greenfield Club agricultural fair will be ready to send out about the middle of August.

Thomas Sweeney is reported to be on the sick list.

There appear to be two village improvement societies in town, one of which has its center of activity on Greenfield Hill. That is such a delightful portion of the town few supposed a society for the improvement of the place would have been formed. It may, many are looking forward with pleasure to the tea which is to be given tomorrow afternoon at the residence of Mrs. William H. Saxe.

The public is invited and there will be a rich assortment of cakes on hand.

Cornelius DuBois and family of New York are occupying the summer at the residence of Mr. Brewer in Main street. Mr. DuBois is of the firm of insurance houses in the city.

The interior of the old Gould Homestead which was left as a summer home for workingwomen, is being redecorated.

Mr. Baldwin, who has charge of the pavilion at the beach, is on the sick list.

On Sunday last a collection was taken up in St. Thomas' church for the purpose of raising funds for redecorating the inside of the building. Nothing of the kind has been done since the church was erected in 1894. If there is money enough it is proposed to wire the church for electricity.

Elting F. Deyo having passed his examination will enter Rutgers College at New Brunswick, N. J., in the fall.

William C. Kinsella who has been absent some days in Providence, R. I., on business, has returned.

Mr. Saum, our popular barber, has had his shop wired for electricity.

While helping to pitch hay some days ago, Frank Carroll lost his fortune to run a time of the pitchfork into his stomach. It was reported yesterday that he was not improving as well as could be wished.

Our Italian fruit dealer in Broad street, Mr. Mercurio, will have his place wired for electricity.

Superintendent and Mrs. H. W. Saxe of New Canaan, were in town yesterday visiting Supt. William A. Wheatley.

There was a Sunday school teachers' meeting at the Congregational church last night, to listen to an address and make the needed preparations for the annual picnic which will be held on the 4th of August at Beardsley Park.

Ted Anderson, an employee of D. M. Read's, is now in Brooklyn visiting friends.

Town Clerk Joseph I. Flint will have his house prepared for the introduction of electricity.

Beckwith's store in the Rock block is to be illuminated with electricity.

Not until next season will Mr. Seymour open an ice cream parlor at his confectionery store in Southport.

Howard Wall of Pittsfield, Mass., is visiting in town.

The Fairfield Stars Juniors defeated the Mill Plains, Sunday afternoon, on Bailey's field.

The old Fairfield team went to Southport on Sunday and played the local team of that place, and were defeated by a score of 10 to 0.

The Fairfield tried out a new pitcher who did not show much form. Experimenting is dangerous for victory.

Next Sunday the Fairfield Stars go to South Norwalk to play the strong team of that city. McGarry will do the pitching.

The Dorsetwons defeated the Up-town, Saturday, on the uptown oval. Score, 9 to 2.

"I love baseball, but oh you Fairfield." That is what the towns were saying Sunday on McGarry's field when the Fairfield defeated the Lincolns of Bridgeport in a great 11 inning battle by a score of 5 to 4. The fans were dazed with excitement by sensational fielding executed by players of both teams. Drew pitched the game of his life, backed by every member of the team. Frank Smith in right field was the candy kid in fielding honors, making some somewhat catches of several high flies, with Joe Carroll following close with some fast fielding. Not a man was allowed his base on balls by either pitcher. Drew had the best of the argument in the 11th inning with men on 2d and 3d. The two next men fanned out, but Red Carroll came to the rescue after having two strikes, and with a two bagger to left close to the foul line, winning the game. The game was umpired by Oscar Nelson with great satisfaction.

BABIES BENEFIT BY NEW SKIN DISCOVERY

Stops Itching Immediately, Soothes and Comforts the Little Ones

A demonstration of the efficacy and entire harmlessness of poslam, the new skin discovery, is afforded when it is applied to the tender skin of infants who are tortured with rashes, chafings, scaly and crusted humors and other skin aggravations. Its effect is soothing, the itching stops at once, the skin heals and is quickly restored to normal condition.

In the various forms of skin troubles in both infants and adults, poslam produces beneficial results from the first application. Eczema, acne, herpes, rash, tetter, etc., yield readily to its remarkable curative properties. Occasional applications will quickly banish pimples, blotches and complexion blemishes and will relieve and cure itching feet, scaly scalp, humors, etc.

Poslam can be had for fifty-cents at any reliable druggist's, particularly Jennie Hamilton's Pharmacy. Or the Emergency Laboratories, No. 32 West 25th Street, New York City, will send a trial supply free by mail to any one who will write for it. This is sufficient to show results in 24 hours.
